Dear Mr. Greenspan:

This will confirm our telephone conversation of earlier today.

As we discussed, enclosed is our check for $35,000, which is the final amount we owe you under the agreement. I apologize for the delay, as it is my intention to treat you fairly, as you have always treated us.

We surely have had a pleasant relationship and we look forward to continuing it. We believe that, in general, your services have been of extremely high quality and we do appreciate those efforts on our behalf.

If there should ever be any difficulty in the future in any respect with our relationship, please feel free to contact me directly as you have done in this case.

Best regards.

Sincerely,

Larry Bosley
